Samantha Corr Senior Environmental Analyst Palm Beach County Environmental Resources Management (ERM)

Samantha has worked in the environmental field in various capacities for the last 19 years. She began her career working as a regulator in environmental and institutional health programs for the Florida Department of Health in 1998. In 2001, she began working for ERM in permitting and regulation first as an environmentalist in petroleum storage and then in 2004 as an environmental analyst in land development. In 2008, she transitioned to public outreach where she still works as a senior environmental analyst with duties ranging from website design, graphic design, public speaking and education, media relations, and event coordination from small scale community events to large scale grand openings.

We look forward to seeing you and your neighbors!
