Dedicated to Quality out-of-School Time

Rhonda Denise Rogers is the Director of Community Engagement & Supports at Prime Time Palm Beach County. As such, she is committed to Prime Time's mission, which is "to foster high quality in out-of-school time programs, which provide opportunities for children and youth to succeed." Ms. Rogers specializes in developing and overseeing new and innovative programs, which provide a wide variety of expanded learning opportunity (ELO) offerings for over 25,000 children and youth annually to creatively complement both their academic and social skills. Ms. Rogers is a strong advocate for high quality educational services for vulnerable populations. She has presented on quality afterschool programming at several national and state conferences and conventions. She is a member (and the new President) of the National Coalition of 100 Black Women, West Palm Beach Chapter. Ms. Rogers is a Class Ambassador for the Class of 2011 with Leadership Palm Beach County, as well as, as board member (and the 2nd Vice President) for the Women's Chamber of Commerce of Palm Beach County. Rhonda is also the Financial Secretary and proud member of the South Palm Beach County Alumnae Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. and the President of the National Pan-Hellenic Council of Palm Beach County and has a strong commitment to its numerous community outreach efforts. Ms. Rogers received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Organizational Management (Cum Laude) from Palm Beach Atlantic University with a concentration in Human Resource Management and she earned her Certified Program Planner (CPP) certification from the LERN Institute.

We look forward to seeing you and your neighbors!
