

2009 BIENNIAL UPDATE

PUBLIC BUILDING IMPACT FEE

Overview:

Public building impact fees are assessed on both residential and non-residential development. The public building impact fee is calculated by multiplying the per capita cost or value of all public buildings by the functional population of the building or landuse.

Explanation:

The key determinants of the fee is the per capita cost of public buildings.

Capital Value of buildings – $1,731,193,706

Backup data supporting these law enforcement input is available on the web under Support Data.